

Empowering for Excellence: Finding Your Inner Compass

June 22 - 23, 2009

STEFFIE ALLEN

SEAN MOORE

When you increase self-awareness of your own potential, you empower yourself to be a strong, courageous, and committed leader with the ability to cultivate and inspire excellence in those around you.

Facilitated by Steffie Allen, Founder and Chair Emeritus of Women'sVision Foundation; President, The AthenA Group LLC; and Sean Moore, President of LeaderWise, Inc. and an Associate of the AthenA Group LLC. Both Steffie and Sean specialize in organizational culture change, multi-dimensional leadership, and workforce excellence.

You will be guided through a series of interactive exercises, goal setting sessions, and an in-depth personal evaluation, the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI) to assist you in setting and achieving your leadership goals.

Empowering for Excellence will help you to understand:

- Core requirements of leadership, including: authenticity, alignment, contemplation, conviction, commitment, and courage
- Gender differences in communication and how they enrich interactions and relationships
- Six stages of power – powerless to powerful – where you are, how to manage it, and what you need to move to the next stage
- Six guiding principles for decision-making and determining if your choices are compatible with your authentic goals
- Your personal leadership vision

Together with your peers, you will discover how decoding gender differences, leadership qualities, stages of power, and elements of authenticity will make this a dynamic and exceptional two-day workshop.

Benefits to Business:

- Improved communication and collaboration across all levels
- Focused decision-making and execution of difficult assignments
- Increased leadership awareness, effectiveness, and commitment
- Improved teamwork, performance, and morale
- Expanded strategic business perspective

Recommended for:

- Leaders or those that want to move into leadership roles
- Managers/leaders taking a new position in their company
- High-potential employees targeted for promotion
- Managers or leaders in transition
